SOME GOOD WORDS

voice in favor of annexation. I believe in it for many and sufficient reasons. "We are not knocking as beggars at the door of the United States. Every year the exports of the Hawaiian Islands exceed the imports by over $5,000,000. Sugar is an important commodity to the United States. In case of disaster to the best crop of the Cuban output, America would readily appreciate the value of Hawaii's contribution of raw sugar. "The bonded indebtedness of the country, which the United States, under annexation, would be obliged to guarantee, is $4,250,000. I have the figures to the cent. It is a fact, as I have it from a most competent authority, that the assets of the Government exceed $8,000,000. This Government is not bankrupt. It has $2 to every $1 it owes. The Republic is rich. It would not be a business proposition for the United States to annex the country. Let us present the question from a business standpoint to the people of the United States, saying: "We are not paupers; we are able to take care of our finances. Then, they may inquire: "Why, if you are so well off, do you want annexation?" The answer is that we want freedom from revolutions, as you call them; a reduction of an army, which it is now necessary to keep up; and a lower rate, of say, 4 per cent, on our bonds. "That is the way to talk to them. Nobody here knows what hard times are. We are rich. After paying expenses and interest on the public debt, there is always a pretty balance in the Treasury. There is $75,000 on bonds. The United States would not suffer from annexation. "After referring briefly to the idea of an independent colony, with a governor sent out from Washington, Mr. Davis continued: "We are isolated. We are unable to maintain an army and navy. But we must have protection. All is well now, but what of the future? When the Japanese begin clamoring for the franchise, and begin instituting strikes here and there, what are we to do? Planters should be approached with this problem. I have heard the Government was not sincere in advocating annexation, but I know that it is. It is not a question of terms. Let us get into the United States, the only true Republic, that has existed since the world began. "Charles Creighton was the next speaker. He said that it might seem strange for one who had been a consistent supporter of the Monarchy up to 1889, to have been a guest of Mr. Low for these convictions, to stand before the Annexation Club and endorse its principles. Since then he had seen the utter impossibility for restoration. "I have seen the Republic founded upon a rock so solid that nothing could wash it down," said Mr. Creighton. "Mr. Creighton thought the Asiatic question a most serious one. If the Japanese today demanded the franchise, the Government was bound, under the "most favored nation" clause of the treaty to give it to them. "Mr. Dillingham closed the meeting with a few remarks on the same general line.

IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Arrival of Minister Willis' Remains in California.

Charge de Affaires Ellis Mills received a letter from U. S. Dispatch Agent W. A. Cooper relative to the disposition of the remains of the late Minister Willis on their arrival in San Francisco, Mr. Cooper writes: "They arrived early on the morning of the 20th, and had a good voyage up I met them at the dock. The Governor had sent a member of his staff to meet them and General Forsythe of the army had detailed Lieut. Bell to do everything possible to assist. Mrs. Willis was anxious to get away the same night if possible so Lieut. Bell and myself rushed around and secured tickets, drawing room, etc. U. S. Appraiser Tucker, acting under orders from Washington accompanied the family to Louisville. As Mrs. Willis did not wish the remains removed to an undertaker's room, Lieut. Bell detailed a body guard of one non commissioned officer and three men to stand guard over the remains. He also detailed six non commissioned officers to act as pall bearers from steamer to train and troop B, 4th cavalry to act as escort. We accompanied remains to train and General Forsythe came over on next boat with the family. "Everything went smoothly without a hitch and I am very glad Lieut. Bells valuable assistance because there were many things to attend to. While in San Francisco the family remained at the Occidental and Mrs. Willis rested all day."

News Confirmed.

The reported death of Mr. Theodore Coulter received confirmation in letters received from his aunt, Mrs. T. D. Garvin, by the steamer Australia yesterday. It occurred Dec. 4th, in Batavia, Java, while he was en route to Singapore. Mr. Coulter had many friends in this city who will be pained to know of his untimely demise. It will be remembered that the deceased was here about two years ago.

Called Out Again.

The fire department was called out again about 10:30 o'clock last night to the foot of Hotel street where it was found that a Chinaman, becoming frightened at the communication of fire to a small pile of rubbish might cause the demolition of his dwelling place had turned in an alarm. A bucket of water extinguished what flames there were.

NEW STEAMSHIP OFFICERS.

The Oceanic Company Holds Its Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oceanic Steamship Company was held yesterday at the office of the company on Market street. The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The only change made in personnel of the board of directors was in the election of Claus Spreckels to the vacancy created by the death of A. L. Tubbs. The new board is as follows: John D. Spreckels, A. B. Spreckels, Claus Spreckels, Charles Goodall, C. M. Goodall, A. C. Tubbs and J. A. Dickman.

The board organized by electing the following officers: President, John D. Spreckels; vice-president, Charles Goodall; agent and treasurer, John D. Spreckels & Brothers; secretary, E. H. Sheldon. According to the annual report of the president the company was able to make an excellent financial showing for the year. The company's indebtedness in the form of an overdraft, which amounted to $90,000 in May last, was reduced to $14,000.—S. F. Chronicle, Jan. 22.

CLUB SWINGING.

Plan of a Match Suggested by an Outsider.

A gentleman who takes some interest in club swinging expressed the opinion yesterday that the only way to have a match would be on the principle of a time limit of, say, from six to ten minutes, and that the clubs should be manipulated in every way known to club swingers, and the man doing the most varied and artistic work should be declared the winner. The judges could be seven or nine in number, they to be selected, partly by the contestants and partly by outsiders.

The plan suggested was mentioned to Mr. Finney and he expressed himself as entirely satisfied with it. He would prefer, if the match is arranged, that it be for a trophy instead of a money prize as he wishes to retain his standing as an amateur. He is willing to swing for a medal valued at anything from $50 to $1,000 and will go into the contest as soon as his hand has improved. Dr. Herbert said yesterday that with care his hand would be well enough in about a month. Toney has not yet visited Mr. Finney.

NOLLE PROSEQUI.

In the Case of Blake for Opium in Possession.

There were quite a number of people present in the police court yesterday morning to listen to the trial of J. W. Blake on the charge of having opium in his possession. It will be remembered that a lichee nut filled with fresh opium was found in the trunk belonging to Blake and in the keeping of the janitor at the Mechanic's Home, an old man whose word no one doubts. He said that the trunk had been given into his charge after Blake arrived in December, at least a month ago. The question is how did it come there and a mystery lies there. Some have solved it.

Judge De La Vergne did not allow Blake to remain long in suspense and a nolle prosequi was entered immediately.

M. B. C. Anniversary.
The 14th anniversary of the formation of the Myrtle Boat Club occurs on Friday, February 5th. The boat club members will celebrate in a smoker in the club house hall on Thursday evening, this course being taken on account of the "High Jinks" of Company D, and other events of Friday night. Light refreshments will be served, speeches will be made and a general good time indulged in. Music will be furnished by one of the Hawaiian stringed instrument clubs of the city. Only the club members are expected.

There is considerable anxiety among certain members of the police force as to the man who will be chosen captain in the place of Kanae, resigned.

George Houghtailing was found not guilty in the Circuit Court late yesterday of selling liquor without license. The jury stood nine to three.
